ORAL ORDER

(18th January 2006)

Learned counsel for the petitioner appeared on 13.9.2005 and made a submission that the petitioner wanted to engage his services, but Vakalatnama was not executed in his favour. At his instance, the matter was adjourned on that day. When the matter was taken up for hearing today, learned counsel repeats the same submission that the petitioner had informed him over phone earlier and thereafter, but had not sent any Vakalatnama. In absence of Vakalatnama, learned Advocate cannot be treated as an authorised Advocate of the petitioner.

In the facts and circumstances of the case, the petition is dismissed for want of prosecution.
